ARNOLD'S COMBINED

FOOT-STOVE, LANTERN,

....AND....

NURSE-LAMP.

ALBERT NOYES having purchased the exclusive right for manufacturing and vending in Penobscot county, the above valuable invention, is now prepared to offer them to the public

As a FOOT STOVE, it answers an excellent purpose, as it can be sufficiently heated in less than one minute to warm and dry the feet in the coldest winter weather, and will be found to be an indispensable article in traveling It is heated by an oil, alcohol, or fluid lamp, the flame of which is protected from every external object

As a LANTERN, it answers all the usual purposes, and is less likely to be overset, or get broken, and can be used as a house lamp with equal advantage.

As a NURSE LAMP, and in cases of sickness, it is of great advantage in keeping drinks or medicines warm, beside giving the light desired, and for cooking in small quantities. For making tea, &c, it will be found very convenient, as a quart of water can be boiled in fifteen minutes, and a flat-iron heat in the same length of time.

In fact, the various purposes to which this neat appatatus can be put may be readily conjectured by every one No further description is required, as no one can misunderstand its general utility To say my claims rise respecting its adaptability to a hundred purposes would just be telling what our readers can all see at once for themselves.

The Bangor Democrat does not like the report of the Judiciary Committee upon the liquor traffic nor the accompanying bill, insofar as they are inconsistent with themselves and admit the prohibitive principle in regulating a "rightful" business.

The Democrat now thinks we should return to the old policy of our fathers and grandfathers in relation to the liquor traffic. It says:

Had a legislative committee stated a proposition by which they would be guided, fifty years ago, it would have been—to the traffic is wrong prohibit it; if right, suppress as few restraints on it as possible. It requires no great effort to understand that proposition, and no reasoning to sustain it. It seems to us the framers of this report labored under the difficulty of establishing the truth that the sale and proper use of liquors was lawful, and yet justifying themselves in reporting a bill amounting substantially to prohibition.

We remember some controversy which we had with our neighbor of the Democrat, a few months since, when he took up pretty sharply for saying that there must in fact be either a prohibition of the rum traffic or a substantially free sale of the article—and that the tendency of the opposition doctrine was to free trade in rum—as no mere license law could restrain the traffic so as to check the sale in any appreciable degree. The Democrat denied this position—asserting that the proper position was to license the sale, and at the same time rigidly restrain it. The editor then said:

There should be a stringent license law, which as the middle ground between the extremes. As the use cannot be prohibited, the sale of ardent spirits should be properly regulated, which is all that law can do to make men temperate

We submit that the Democrat's present doctrine varies materially from that, and approaches very nearly to the "free trade in rum," which we formerly predicted, for the editor now says "he should impose as few restraints as possible" upon the traffic. The Democrat now goes for striking out the whole bill, except the last section, which repeals the Maine Law and provides that no former law shall thereby be revived. Thus, in face of its former professions of a desire merely to "regulate" the traffic, the Democrat goes in for entire free trade in liquor.

The fact is, in relation to the liquor question, the "harmonious alliance" is in a terrible predicament. They dare not pass the bill they have reported after two months severe labor—and they dare not permit the old law to stand.

The Expositor is down upon the majority report in an article of seven columns, in which it says:

"If this bill can be smuggled through the present Legislature, we shall frequently pray for a return, in the next Legislature, of the open and undisguised supporters of the Maine Law as it now stands!

HOTEL AND FARM TO RENT.—We call attention to the advertisement of Mrs. Stinson, in this paper, offering for rent on advantageous terms, a good house in Oldtown village, and an excellent farm within a mile of that place.

New Publications.

THE WORKS OF SHAKSPEARE, or Young Humphry Davy. By Henry Mayhew. New York: Harper & Brothers, 1855.

This is a most useful and interesting volume, written especially for boys, and giving in an attractive and romantic form the incidents in the earlier and later life of that eminent man, Sir Humphry Davy. The author remarks that the book was written "to show youths how one of the greatest of natural philosophers had, when a lad, like themselves, made himself acquainted with the principles of science; and thus to induce them to go and do likewise."

Although the author has thrown the charm of an exciting narrative around his work, it is still in the main, a strict biographical memoir, embodying in familiar phraseology, many of the leading principles of natural science. No boy can read the book, without learning a great deal.

The principle of obtaining pictures by the simple action of light upon a chemically prepared surface, it seems was known as long ago as Davy's time, but never until late years brought to its beautiful perfection which we now see in the daguerreotype and crystalotype paintings. We make an extract from an account given of Davy, of the manner in which Sun Pictures were then taken. It should be stated, however, that no method had then been discovered of fixing the impressions so that exposure to light would not efface or darken the picture—so that the discovery was then practically without value.

"THE FIRST SUN PICTURES."

"With pencils to copy these I apply the solution of nitrate of silver to leather, for thus I find to be the readily acted upon than paper—probably owing to the tannin in this material. When the surface of leather is thus prepared, I place it behind a painting upon glass, and expose it to the solar light, when the rays, being transmitted through the different parts of the picture, produce distinct gradations of black and white, according to the lights and shades in the original; for where the light passes freely through the glass, the color of the nitrate of silver, of course, becomes the deepest. By this means, then, you will perceive that the lights and shades of my picture are entirely reversed: all the black parts in the original being left white in the copy, since the light, being unable to pass through these, cannot act upon the solution, while all the white parts of the original, on the other hand, become the blackest in the copy, owing to the rays passing freely through the glass there, and so producing the strongest effect. Accordingly, I am obliged to have the original finely painted, in this dead distance, with their lights and shades reversed, before I cover another glass with a film consisting of isinglass, and apply the solution of nitrate of silver to this, so that when I have transferred the original shadows, by this means, to a second piece of glass, in which the lights and shades are the direct opposite to what they are in nature, I proceed to take a second copy of it—but this I do upon leather, as before explained—and thus obtain a perfect reproduction of the original, with the lights and shades in their proper places."

THE MONTHLY ARGOSY AND HOME JOURNAL.—With some Incidents of Travel from Missouri to California 1852-3. In a Series of Letters. By Mrs. B. G Ferris. New York: Dix & Edwards.

These letters were originally published in Putnam's Magazine, and were read with great interest, as a lively and graphic picture of the social side of life among the Mormons. The authoress is the wife of a gentleman who was Secretary of Utah Territory, in 1852, and she resided with him in the Territory during one winter. She became acquainted with the principal Mormon elders and their families, and pushed her researches diligently into the general social condition of the people, as it is particularly affected by the institution of polygamy. Her book presents a sad, and we have no doubt a true picture of the degraded and sorrowful condition to which females are reduced under that brutal and unchristian system. There is scarcely a woman among them who is not either heart-broken or brutalized in her feelings.

WOMAN'S FAITH. A Tale of Southern Life. New York: Derby & Jackson.

This is a pleasant and touching story of the trials and sufferings of a French family of rank, who were exiled in Napoleon's time, and afterwards restored under the Bourbons. There is an excellent moral lesson conveyed in the story—that adversity may be no inducement to purify and elevate the heart, and render the sufferer better qualified to enjoy returning prosperity rationally, and to fit the heart for higher happiness hereafter.

THE LOST HEIRESS. A Tale of Early Times. New York: Derby & Jackson.

With an interesting style, and in simple and plain language, this story contains much of interesting incident, and will be read with pleasure. The principal character is presented to the reader as a lonely recluse, the former murderer of whose family, by the Indians in the West, had touched his mind with partial insanity of a religious cast, but in the development of the tale he discovers that his life was saved by an Indian woman—and recovers him in the person of a young man whose life he had himself once saved. The brother of the recluse, near whom he was living, unknown, also becomes touched with hereditary derangement, and attempts the life of his only daughter, whom he was about to sacrifice, as Abraham would have sacrificed his son, upon an altar to the Lord; but his son was discovered in the act by the recluse, and prevented from accomplishing it. After which the story winds up pleasantly.

GUNNY'S DIARY BOOK.—The number for April is now received in excellent season, as is usual with its prompt publishers. We believe this magazine is an exception to the periodical world. It never fails to come. The superb frontispiece in this number, entitled "Mazeppa," is exceedingly beautiful, and contains within itself a volume of many reflections.

The book is full of excellent matter and beautiful engravings, that we cannot determine which is the most worthy of notice.

CHLORINE.—A few bottles of Perry Davis' Pain Killer will relieve all in case of illness if resorted to in season. Recommended by eminent physicians and used in hospitals.

Editorial Correspondence of New York Tribune.

Washington, Friday, March 14, '56.

Mr. Trumbull's review to-day of Senator Douglas's Pro-Slavery Kansas Report is hailed with enthusiasm, as calculated to do honor to the palmiest days of the Senate.—Though three hours long, it commanded full galleries, and the most fixed attention to the close. It was searching as well as able, and was as calm dignified and convincing.

In the House Mr. Israel Washburn replied forcibly to the Southern disunionists to granting power to send for persons and papers, and closed by calling the previous question, which the House refused by 88 to 76.

DOUGLAS A CANDIDATE FOR THE PRESIDENCY.—Washington, Friday, March 14, 1856.—The attitude assumed by Senator Douglas leaves no room for further doubt as to his aspirations. He is a candidate for the next Presidency, subject to the choice of the Democratic National Convention which is to meet on May 22 at Cincinnati. I have this from persons who cannot be mistaken. There will be no lack of effort to give him the nomination, and some hold out bad for Southern favor, in his Kansas report, to be ratified by, and has offers of support from many more Slavery propagandists than formerly. The candidates for the Cincinnati nomination are Pierce, Buchanan and Douglas. The first has no chance at all. His friends should tell him so, and induce him to withdraw, while he can with some grace. I still think Buchanan has the probabilities strongly in his favor, as there is no present likelihood that Pierce will throw his strength or weakness on to Douglas's side, but if the author of the Nebraska act should be nominated for President, I trust Senator Mason, the author of the Fugitive Slave Law, will be his Vice. Let us have the whole platform embodied in the ticket.

The Earthquakes in California—Violent shock in San Francisco—Damage to Brick Buildings, etc.

Two buildings at the corner of Battery and Washington streets, occupied by Sweetzer, Hutchings & Co., and the bank of Madra. Burgoyne & Co., were separated about three inches. The direction of the shock was very fortunate, as, had it been in a direction parallel with the streets either way, its effects would have been more disastrous.

The occupants of large brick hotels and boarding houses were terribly frightened, and, in many cases, rushed wildly into the streets for safety. The Kossette, which is a small town in itself, was the scene of great excitement. Men, women and children were seen rushing through the halls in their night clothes, seeking safety from the supposed danger.

In nearly every part of the city we hear of houses being injured more or less. The plastering was considerably cracked and torn off from the walls of Wilcox's Exchange, International Hotel, Fremont House, St Nicholas Hotel, the Merchants' Exchange Building, and the City Hall.

The vibrations were attended by a heavy report, resembling the discharge of distant artillery, but was continuous and produced a deep, low, rumbling noise.

We have learned of no serious injury to property, or the loss of any lives, but the effects of the earthquake are plainly visible from one end of the city to the other. The principal damage done is to the walls of the plastered buildings, which are more or less cracked in large portion of buildings, and in many instances the plastering has fallen off. The fall of the fire wall from the top of the store of Messrs. Goodwin & Co., at the corner of Front and Oregon streets, is perhaps the most striking evidence of its power. The wall was about one hundred feet long, four feet high, and one foot thick, being all that extended above the roofing, and was thrown in a body upon the sidewalk, about six or eight feet from the base of the building.

A row of nail kegs that were standing on the sidewalk in front of a store on Battery street were moved out from the building twelve inches.

A heavy salamander safe at Patterson's Exchange was moved from its usual position several inches.

A man sleeping in the Mercantile Exchange building was thrown upon the floor.

Bedsteads, that were supplied with casters were rolled from their positions, in many instances from one inches to two feet.

In a multitude of instances great disturbance was made with crockery and glass ware, and in some cases it was thrown to the floor and broken. Several families had their night bells rung.

On Sacramento street the door next the Appraiser's office was so wrenched that the iron doors had to be opened with a crowbar.

Instances of persons being thrown out of bed, of clocks stopping, bursting of windows, crack ing of walls, and disarranging of household things generally, are entirely too numerous to mention. The whole city was in an uproar, and the entire population a good deal alarmed, while many were nearly frantic. People rushed wildly into the streets in their night clothes, and stood amazed and astounded at what had happened.

MONIED OPERATIONS OF NEW YORK.—Few persons unacquainted with the immense financial and other business operations of New York can have an idea of their extent, or of the amount of business frequently done, in one day, by a single house. We noticed, a day or two since, a large sale of Erie and Reading Railroad stock, amounting to 15,000 shares of former and 8,000 shares of latter, in a single transaction to an individual firm. The sale was for cash, and amounted to the sum of $1,350,000. It was made by the house of Cammann & Co. to Jacob Little & Co., extensive operators.—Thus, in a single transaction, the result probably of a short negotiation, a payment was made in cash of nearly a million and a quarter dollars. Single checks for $100,000 and $200,000 and upwards, are not unusual upon our Banks, not only for stocks, but in relation to operations in steamship lines, real estate, and various other branches of business—the whole resulting, generally, in a profit to the operator, commensurate with the magnificence and extent of the enterprise.—N. Y. Sun.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A week ago last Saturday, while Mr. William McLeod was at work in the ship-yard of the Messrs. Porters, in this city, assisting in hoisting a stock of timber on to the saw-pit the stick slipped endways, striking Mr. McLeod in the lower part of the abdomen and pinning him to the ground. The stock was taken off him as soon as possible, but he was so badly injured that he survived but a short time after it. He was esteemed as an honest, sober, and industrious man, a kind husband and indulgent parent. He belonged to the Scotch Lodge, Charlotte county, N. B., where he has left a large circle of connexions and friends to mourn the sad termination of his existence. He was 61 years of age.—Colonial Advertiser.

Notwithstanding every attempt was resorted to, the infant died the next day.

A WARNING.—A few weeks since, in the course of conversation with an eminent broker, who had been over 40 years acquainted with the leading moneyed men of the country, we asked if he ever knew a schemer, who acquired money or position by fraud, to continue successful through life, and leave a fortune at death. We walked together about three minutes in silence, when he replied—"Not one! I have seen many," he said, "become rich as if by magic, and afterwards reach a high position in public estimation, pass for honor and enterprise, but even for piety, when some small circumstance, of no apparent importance, has led to investigations, which resulted in disgrace and ruin."

On Saturday we again conversed with him upon the same subject, and he stated that since our last interview he had ex[illegible] ended his inquiries among a large circle of acquaintances, and with one solitary exception, and that doubtful, their experience was to the same effect as his own. He then gave a brief outline of several small and big schemers and their tools, their true and fall. Suicide, murder, arson, and perjury, he said, were common crimes with many of those who made "haste to be rich," regardless of the means, and, he added, there are not a few men, who may be seen on Change every day, ignorantly striving for their own destruction! It is not, he said, so much the love of gold that leads many business men astray, as the desire to be thought sharp or successful. He concluded that fortunes acquired without honesty generally overwhelmed their possessors with infamy.—Boston Atlas.

AN UNPRECEDENTED OPINION.—In one of the towns of France, the law against dishonest bakers is very strict, and the officials inspect no opp. [illegible] of enforcing it. A short time since, a workman called on a police officer with a loaf of bread which he declared contained injurious ingredients. The officer examined it, and being satisfied of the justice of the complaint, took the matter in hand. The loaf contained the stamp of the baker X——. As he should be obliged to apply to several officials, the policeman cut the bread in four parts, and, putting them in his pocket, proceeded upon his errand. As he passed along, he met the devoted baker himself, and stopping him, he said:

"Mr. X——, I have a little affair in your line to attend to. I wish you would give me your opinion upon this." And he drew from his pocket one of the four pieces.

"Pah!" shocking!" exclaimed the baker, smelling it; "what scoundrel could have sold such bread as that?"

"One of your craft, friend. But tell me" continued the French Bucket, "what the ingredients are, it may be useful in convicting him."

The baker carefully smelt the bread again, and then, with disgust and lofty indignation for the basis offender deposed upon his countenance, replied:

"There's a little of every thing, from rotten beans to bread, a mildy and full of worms? But who is the pitiful rascal?"

"I will tell you presently," replied the officer, drawing the other pieces from his pocket, and joining them together; "do you know this mark?"

"Mine!" ejaculated the thunder-stricken baker.

"Exactly," replied the detective; but the rascally baker took to his heels without asking any further explanations, and it is not probable he will be able to give any at his approaching trial, for out of his own mouth will he be judged.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—The house of P. W. Ogden, on Parker street, in this city was entered on Saturday night last, between 10 and 11 o'clock. The intruder went up stairs to the chamber in which Mr. Curtis slept.—Mr. Curtis hearing him, arose and partially dressing, pursued him down stairs and to a considerable distance from the house. About a fortnight since the house was entered; Mr. Curtis thinks it was another person that knew he carried proper sums of money from his store on the evening and who is well acquainted with the house.—Journal.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, March 18.

SENATE.—In the senate to-day, Mr. Iverson of Georgia, introduced a bill to increase the pay of the members of Congress, and fix the time of the annual meeting.

Mr. Hamlin introduced a bill requesting the appraisement of imported articles.

Mr. Houston presented a memorial signed by members of the Maryland Legislature, endorsing the resolutions of the Virginia Legislature, condemnatory of the action of the Naval Board.

Mr. Houston remarked on the characters of Captains Stribling and Dupont, that they were duly commended on, as were also those of other members of the retiring board.

Mr. Clayton inquired on what authority the statements regarding Capt. Dupont were made.

Mr. Hamlin replied, he had not read the entire document to the senate, but had obtained his information from it.

Mr. Clayton—The know nothing about it.

Mr. Hamlin pleaded to the observation of Mr. Mallory, that Gens are cases of hardship, and some of the hardest cases remained in the navy. (Laughter.) I assail no man's character. I only read from documents. I don't say they are not gents., but I may be my private opinion (renewed laughter.

Mr. Bayard, in reply to another remark made by Mr. Houston said if the latter could sustain his assertions by the documents adduced, he possessed a power of perversion even greater than he had exhibited in the Senate to-day.

Mr. H. resuming charged the naval board with cutting off the heads by hetacombs, and that instead of the navy being improved the country has now but one protective arm, the volunteer forces of the nation; and he (Mr. Houston) was for wiping out the wrong by reposting the act under which the board acted, as partiality and selfishness were the only things for which the board could be commended. He spoke more than three hours. The galleries were densely crowded.

Mr. Butler vindicated Com. Shubrick, of the naval retiring board, eulogising the brilliant achievements of the officer on the Pacific coast.

Mr. Bayard spoke chiefly in defence of Capt. Dupont, and said that on some future occasion, he would express his views at length, of the naval board.

In his opinion the attack of the Senator upon Capt. Dupont was wanton in the extreme.

Mr. H. rejoined, saying he had made no assertions that were not sustained by official documents. He should wait for the printed speech of Mr. Bayard, and reply as it might deserve.

Mr. Mallory defended the naval board individually and collectively.

Mr. Clayton gave notice that he would reply to Mr. H. to-morrow. Adjourned.

HOUSE.—Mr. Granger said Gov. Reader came here by higher law and lower law, self preservation and self defence. Mr. Whitfield comes here under an election ordered by a spurious legislature, and during which the people at the polls were overawed by armed invaders from Missouri. Give the committee therefore full power to examine the facts. The country demands this, let there be no dodging.

Messrs. Hall of Iowa, and Lake spoke against and Mr. Harbour in favor of granting the committee the power asked.

Mr. Damrell defended the Massachusetts Aid Society, and said it was never intended thatany dollar of the capital should be used for arms or munitions of war, nor were hostilities or any unconstitutional act commenced; any thing said to the contrary was false.

At 5 o'clock only 13 members were present, and about as many persons in the galleries.

Mr. English should not vote to give the committee the unlimited power asked. He strongly suspected the majority would manufacture food for agitation, as ammunition to be employed against the advocates of the Kansas Nebraska bill. He was willing to have the subject investigated by a disinterested commission.—Ad.

Senator on the 1st ballot, 75 yeas, and Gen. Lane on the 2d, 3 yeas. Both candidates received 38 votes, 86 members being present.

The Legislature which organized on the 4th inst. was still in session up this time and the letter makes no mention of any anticipated time for adjournment.

Cheap & Convenient Building, Door, Sash and Blind Factory.

A. DUNBAR

HAS been for several years successful in completing several contracts for Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames and Sashes, and Blinds, for gentlemen's dwelling-house, and other buildings to be erected in this city, the coming season. He has excellent workmen in his employ, and has superior stock, so that he is able to supply to those about to build the above articles of Door Frames, Doors, Window Frames, Sashes, and Blinds, made to any dimensions and of superior quality, either for a whole building or in less quantity. The trouble and expense of getting these articles made separately, so that the carpenters have only to put them in their places in the structure.

This business has become so well systematized that only a small margin is left in knowing before hand the cost of a dwelling-house, while the work is of excellent quality.

Any one interested can examine specimens of the work at the Factory, near the Rose Place, or at the store of Mr. Jackson, on Exchange st., and at either place any article may be obtained or large quantities ordered.

Mr. Dunbar is prepared to furnish Window Blinds ready painted, and will hang them at the shortest notice.

By long experience, and by determined perseverance, the subscriber is now enabled to suit his customers, both in quality and price, and so well organized as to constantly keep on hand what no man should now think of building—the old and slow and imperfect methods.

DAGUERREOTYPES can be accurately reproduced by the new Photographic process, enlarged to any required size, and beautifully colored in Oil, Water, or Pastel. Extract of a letter from Daniel Adams Esq., of Brookfield, Maine

FREEMAN, 17th 1853.

To Rev Walker Clark Dear Sir—The bottle of Cough Mixture which bought of you at Topsham had the desired effect on my wife She had been afflicted with a cough for two years—that bottle entirely removed it.

From Rev Jesse Hoyt, Lewiston Falls

Rev. CLARK—Every bottle of the Universal Cough Mixture which you left with me I sold—and I have several applications for more As far as I have learned they all have been perfectly satisfied with the medicine. One man, who had a cough of long standing attended with tightness of the chest and difficult breathing so that he was laid aside from business four different times, purchased two bottles, and before he had taken one half of it was perfectly cured and has had no cough since Its safe to be best medicine in the world, and can not be recommended too highly

JESSE HAYES.

From Mr Fletcher Clark agent for North Dixmont, Maine

DEAR SIR—A number of the most extraordinary cures have been effected by your Universal Cough Mixture in this place Several who had a great deal of physician's advice, and others who have been disabused so as to be without receiving any benefit have been speedily cured by the Universal Cough Mixture

From Mrs Hubbard, Thorndike Me

To Rev Walker Clark Dear Sir—This certifies that I have used two bottles of your Universal Cough Mixture for a distressing cough and soreness in the lungs that previously taken several bottles of medicine, and had been to see the care of several physicians, without obtaining the least relief Happily your Universal Cough Mixture was recommended to me for which I feel grateful and shall always take according to directions on the label, by which in a few days I was entirely cured.

Purifying the Blood, removing all diseases arising from Excess of Mercury, exposure, and improper confidence in life, chronic constitutional diseases arising from an impure state of the Blood, and the only reliable and effectual known remedy for the cure of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Scald head, Ulcerations of the Throat and Legs, Pains and Swellings of the Bones, Rheumatism, Pimples in the Face, and all scaly Eruptions of the skin

It is gratifying to the proprietor of these medicines to be able to state that it is now nearly three years since they were first introduced, during which time they have been extensively used in the principal parts of the United States, and have given to the patient the most perfect satisfaction the highest degree of satisfaction in the various cases in which they have been employed, whether in town, country, hospital or private practice they have invariably given the most decided and unequivocal satisfaction and produced the most salutary and beneficial effects Numerous letters have been received from the most distinguished physicians of the country and from the professors of several medical colleges, recommending in the highest terms the value of these medicines and their superiority over all other preparations for such complaints as the proprietor recommends Numerous preparations of Sarsaparilla and Buchu, and various modes of preparing them have been given, all of which of course will differ according to the mode of preparation which each individual may adopt.

These medicines require no considerable care in the use of them, and the employment of different menstrua in successive operations to bring up the extractive matters, and, in consequence, are most frequently improperly made, and not unfrequently much impaired, if not rendered totally inert, by the injudicious and unskillful management of persons unacquainted with pharmaceutical preparations. It is therefore of the highest consideration and importance to the public that there should be standard preparations of uniform strength and possessing the most advantageous To effect this and obviate the evil alluded to, I have made a number of experiments to ascertain the most effectual mode of extracting the virtues of the Sarsaparilla and the Buchu, and to discover the most eligible form for their exhibition The experiments have resulted most favorably, and it is with much pleasure I now offer to the public and the faculty my Compound Fluid Extracts, which contain all the virtues of the articles they are represented to be made from in a highly concentrated form, and are the most desirable preparations which can be made. Two table spoonfuls of the Extract Sarsaparilla added to a pint of water is equal to the Decoction or drink, and one bot the fully equals in strength one gallon of Syrup Sarsaparilla or decoction, as usually made

TESTIMONY FROM MAINE

Capt Daniel Abbott, Brooklin, Maine, July 16, 1855 says 'I was taken sick the year ago last April, upon my passage from Thomaston to Charleston S C at the latter place I took medicine and procured a physician, but for ten days could obtain no relief, no sleep or appetite At last taking up a newspaper having your advertisement of Hoofland's German Bitters in it, I sent for some immediately The first was about 10 o clock, at 11 o'clock I took, the first dose, and another at 6 o'clock The effect was so rapid in me that I had a good appetite for supper, and rested well that night and the next day found me a well man—I have not been without your medicine since, having been selling between Baltimore, Charleston, and the West India Islands ever since I have now given up going to sea and reside in this place where you should have an agency, as you could sell large quantities of it.

Jos B Hall & Co, Presque Isle, Aroostook Co, Maine, April 24, 1855, say "We herewith send you a certificate of a cure performed by the use of only one bottle of the German Bitters We think Mr Clark to be a man of veracity, and have no doubt of the truth of his story

Messrs Jos B Hall & Co—Gentlemen—In answer to your inquiries I will state that my daughter, aged about 16 years, has been complaining of a pain in her side for a year or more, and about the first of January last was taken down and confined to her bed. The pain in her side was very severe besides being troubled with pains between her shoulders and in her breast From reading a number of cures performed by Hoofland s German Bitters I was induced to try them in her case, and sent to your store and purchased less than half a bottle She had taken it but a few days when she began to improve and now after taking only one bottle she is enjoying better health than she has for years.—She feels no pain in her side or in any part of her body, and attributes her cure entirely to the German Bitters

WILLIAM CLARK.

Salmon Brook, Aroostook Co, Me

You should bear in mind that these Bitters are entirely vegetable, thereby possessing advantages over most of the preparations recommended for similar diseases.

Securing Patents for Inventions.

AGENCY FOR BUSINESS WITH THE U S PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON

R. H. EDDY,

No, 76 State Street, opposite Kilby St., BOSTON

IMPORTANT INFORMATION TO INVENTORS—The subscriber, (late Agent of the U S Patent Office under the Act of 1837,) determined to present advantages in applying for patents, superior to those offered inventors by others, has made arrangements, whereby, on application prepared and conducted by him, THIRTY DOLLARS (instead of twenty, as paid back by others) will be remitted by him in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal, through him within thirty days after the rejection

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immediately superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings necessary to the procural of patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, the infringement of patents. All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are hereby saved inventors.

Copies of the claims of any patent furnished for one dollar Assignments recorded at Washington. Patents secured in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, through agents of the highest respectability

TESTIMONIALS

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R H EDDY, Esq., practiced at the Patent Office as Solicitor for procuring Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most efficient Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office,

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

[From the present Commissioner.]

"August, 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents R H Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the prosecution of business with the Office, as a Solicitor and is thoroughly acquainted with the laws, and the rules of practice of the office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

1 THE LONDON QUARTERLY (Conservative)
2 THE EDINBURG REVIEW (Whig)
3 THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW (Free Church)
4 THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW (Liberal)
5 BLACKWOOD'S EDINBURG MAGAZINE (Tory)

THE great and important events in the Military—now agitating the nations of the World, give to these publications an interest and value they never before possessed They are filled with the freshest and most reliable intelligence, and take ground here on the hastily written news of the day, occupying a middle position between the newspaper and the ponderous Tome of the Quarterly—thus giving the latest information in the form best adapted for reading at this busy season of the year The progress of the War in the Crimea, and the large space given in their pages to its literature and criticism, will render these Periodicals more than ever necessary to every one who wishes to keep himself thoroughly informed on the great events now transpiring in the world. Every movement in the Theatre of War, and all the great battles, will be fearlessly reported and discussed in the pages of these Periodicals. The latest news will be found in Blackwood's Magazine and the Quarterly Reviews, which are universally conceded to be the most popular contributors, given in no other form, and at no other price, than in the reprints of the Leonard Scott Publication. The Leading Article in Blackwood's Magazine for November will contain a very valuable account of the movements of the Bashi-Bazouks, that will be found in it and in no other publication.

These Periodicals ably represent the three great political parties of Great Britain—the Tory and Radical Organs of the most people and writers of the day, being considered indispensable to the scholar and statesman, while to the intelligent reader generally they furnish a more correct and satisfactory view of the literature of the day than ought elsewhere be obtained, even at a much greater cost, from any other source.
